Join us for a Women's History Month 2015 Youth Program: 'Women's Clothing in the Victorian Era'

Saturday, March 7, 2015 at 11:30 AM

Attention visitors between the ages of 8 and 13! In honor of Women's History Month, Lindsey Mullholand, a fashion designer and Theodore Roosevelt Birthplace volunteer, will be conducting a program /workshop that explores fashion design of Victorian-era women's clothing. Participants will not only discover the history of Victorian clothing, but also create their own designs!

Victorian-era clothing design differs very much from that of today's clothes. Some articles of clothing are not worn anymore, and social class influenced the type of clothing that people wore. Stores on the 'Ladies Mile' catered to the trade, and to families like the Roosevelts. In this program, the connections between Victorian fashion and design will be explained for young visitors in an exciting way.

Space is limited for this program and reservations are required to participate. Admission is free. Please call (212) 260-1616 to speak with a representative. Reservations via voicemail or e-mail will not be honored. All participants must be accompanied by an adult. House tours are offered separately by same-day sign-up.
